

JOIN THE RITN

Radiation Injury Treatment Network®

The Radiation Injury Treatment Network® comprises of medical centers in the management of bone marrow failure which are preparing to care for patients with Acute Radiation Syndrome following a mass casualty disaster.

WHO:

- Medical centers with bone marrow transplant units and/or hematology/oncology units

EXPECTATIONS:

- Annual tasks
 - Administrative: Task reporting, quarterly webinar, etc.
 - Exercise: Participate in a RITN facilitated web-based TTX
 - Education: Complete web-based training modules or attend in person RITN sponsored training
- Quarterly WebEx meeting (1 hour)
- Participation in ad hoc projects as available

ANNUAL TIME COMMITMENT:

(dependent on how involved you want to be)

- Primary MD – 5-15 hours
- Primary coordinator – 10-20 hours
- Secondary coordinator – 5-10 hours
- Emergency manager – 5-20 hours

RESOURCES:

- RITN.net
- Free online training
- Exercise summaries and preparedness

QUESTIONS:

- Email RITN@nmdp.org

LEARN MORE ABOUT FREE RITN MATERIALS:

Triage: RITN.net/triage

Treatment: RITN.net/treatment

Training: RITN.net/training

Exercises: RITN.net/exercises

Or scan this code with your smartphone

RITNSM

RADIATION INJURY TREATMENT NETWORK

RITN.net | RITN@nmdp.org | (612) 884-8276

National Marrow Donor Program®
ATTN: Radiation Injury Treatment Network
500 N. 5th Street, Minneapolis, MN 55401

This project is supported by funding from the National Marrow Donor Program and the Department of the Navy, Office of Naval Research Grant to the National Marrow Donor Program.

© 2021 National Marrow Donor Program | P00439; NOV 2021